Bali, Mexico, Argentina, Germany, France, Netherlands, Turkey, India, Canada, and a few short hops into other countries.

Favorite place traveled and why:

Thailand followed by China, Vietnam, Laos, because of the people, food, and culture; recent events in Bangkok notwithstanding

"Bucket" list - things still to do in life:

A safari, but Phruedtharachai and I will be going to Tanzania in July to check this box; Egypt which we plan for next year; Nepal— ~~climb~~ look at Mount Everest; go back to India for a longer period and see different parts (not just Mumbai).

Other classmates with whom you are still in contact:

Mike Brown and Claude Halcomb and a few others on Facebook more infrequently—always open to new FB friends

Favorite teacher and why:

Mr Olson because he gave me an appreciation of literature and people; Mr. Campbell for giving a lot of us a chance to think and develop according to our own natures and interests; Coach Latimer for being such a crazy guy and urged us on (over hill and dale, literally) but the experience of the team and having personal goals and striving for them has worked out very well for me.

Favorite class and why:

The classes have dimmed... but the people have not.

Fondest memory:

Oddly, many of my fondest memories are regrets that I promised myself not to repeat.

What else is interesting to know:

I wish I knew more of them better. I really feel I was something of an ass in high school.
