Newsletter No. 5
March 5, 2002

Hi Everyone!

Well, I'm going to try again to put out newsletters sharing what I receive from all of you. I'm sorry to say that since my computer crash in December, I have not retyped the class address/phone list to send out. I do plan to do that, but in the meantime if there is someone you would like to contact, please just let me know and I'll send you the email address. I suppress the email addresses when I email all of you because I don't think it's good to have the whole list out there for the world to see and it makes it easier for those darnn computer viruses to get around.

If you sent me something that you never saw in a previous newsletter and you still don't see it in this one, that means it was lost when my computer crashed. Please send it again if you can recreate it. All feedback indicates that everyone is really enjoying hearing what people have been up to since 1965 and, beyond that, what is going on for you and your families now, what you dream about, what you regret, what matters to you. Please share as often as you like.

If you email me on a personal basis, please be sure to indicate that it is just between you. Please be very clear when you want the information you send to go into the newsletter. Please forgive me for a little editing in terms of paragraph format which I will do just to save space. The newsletters have printed out to up to 20 pages. Okay, I've babbled long enough. Let's get down to the news.

ED HART

In 1965 Ed Hart and Sally Wellman dated in high-school. They became engaged in July of 1967, just after Ed came home from his first tour of duty in Viet Nam.

They eventually broke their engagement and went their separate ways, both having families of their own. Each were divorced in early 2001 and met in April of 2001. What are the odds of two people from Vallemar meeting again 34 years later ... in Washington State, living 70 miles from each other? It gets even better

Now....36 years after their first kiss as teenagers.....

Dear friends,

Ed Hart and Sally Wellman were married Sunday, December 16, 2001 at 5:00 P. M. in our living room, in front of our Christmas tree, by the neighbor who lives across the street. He just happens to be a preacher. Incredible. It was a quiet, comfy, and wonderful ceremony. In attendance were: Aunt Betty (Wellman) Armstrong, her new husband Bob, Sal's cousin Mike Wellman and his wife

Jeannie, we are so happy that they came to be our witnesses. The preacher Eric' Sandras' family, also shared our day with us. It was the most special time we've ever spent with these great people. We softly played the music theme from the movie "Somewhere in Time". Sal and I feel like we have gone back in time to reunite. Now we will gladly move [forward together].
Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to one and all.

Love to you and yours,
Edmond and Sally Hart
Happy days are here again!

GEORGE HINKLE

What a dreadful experience you had with your computer. While I am not computer wise about all the intricacies such as "attachments" and forwarding of messages received, I'm involved in so many projects that most of my computer learning is mostly trial and error.

2001 was very good to me in spite of some of the setbacks. Yesterday I did reach my goal of running the 5 K distance in under 45 minutes, and will sign up for the YMCA 5 k run coming up this spring with more confidence. Goal for the end of this year: complete a 10 K race by Dec 31, 2002. Have another tap show coming up the end of this month. Had a great Christmas with the four grand kids all at one time. Now that was a real experience, but fun. Hope you all had wonderful and joyful holidays and are now ready for 2002. Make it a great one.
Hi to all you '65ers.

My best,
George

DAVID CRASS

How's it going, I have some good news and bad news, what do you want to hear first? BAD NEWS? ok! are you sure you want to hear? January 17th I was suspected of having squamous celi carcinomas {SCC} (in English cancer of the throat). A biopsy later confirmed that is in fact what I have, BAD LUCK. One might ask how did I get that when I don't smoke or drink? It is as the doc said-- "BAD LUCK." Wednesday I had an MRI done which again confirmed but showed it's only located on my tonsils--GOOD LUCK. January 29th I get to go have my tonsils and my lymph glands in my throat removed and then possibly some chemo. GOOD NEWS: 1)I'll still be able to talk; 2)I'll probably loose weight; 3) I'll probably get some golf time in, but the doc says ill have some problems putting my hands above my head; 4)I'll be off work for a month. [Dave, we all hope you are doing well now. Please keep us posted--Jean]

SAD NEWS:

Sorry to hear from Marcia (Felty) Taylor that Vince Salerno was killed in a motorcycle accident in late November or early December last year. He was brother to Danelle (Ohlander) Salerno's husband Tom.

GOOD NEWS:

I was recently contacted by Joyce (Reed) Giosso for the first time since high school. Joyce played the hilarious nurse in our senior play (Mark Stephens and Sharon (Day) Rathbun were also major players in that performance). Joyce, it's great to hear from you.

JOYCE (REED) GIOSSO

I'm married (20 years now) -- Mike Giosso is my husband. I live in Hayward (Hayweird, if you live here long!). I'm currently unemployed, but living well on my severance package (from Lucent). I've been ultra high-tech for years, but thinking seriously now about just sewing for business women. I have one kid -- she'll be 30 in May (graduated from UCSC and is living in Cambridge with a Dr. of genetics...). My life is good -- a few years of craziness -- but all is pretty normal these days. I wish I weighed what I did in school, but I'm about twice that now... (must be a genetic thing!).

Anyway, hope you are doing well. Nice to hear from you!

Best wishes,

Joyce

LORNA (WILLS) BAZZANI

Lorna and Tom have six children... Lorna has three children by a former marriage to Lee Zmerzlikar.. Tom has two children by Barbara Maggi and a child by Patty Forminak... Tom and I have sixteen grandchildren ... after living in Pescadero, CA. for the last twelve years , we moved to Foothill Farms, Sacramento, CA. It's been quite a big change for us. Living in the country for so long, we had to get used to busy highways and city noise ... but we are adjusting... we have daughter and son and their families living up here too! So I am very lucky to be around my grandchildren a lot!! We love the holidays, this house is a rockin..... our daughter Mechele works for Kaiser hospital, our son Mike is manager for Trader Joes store in Menlo Park, CA. And our son Aaron works for the Clairon Hotel in downtown Sacramento...our daughter Terri is a beautician in Monterey, CA. And Tom jr. works for an air conditioning co. Our daughter Tricia works for Safeway in Fremont, CA. My husband [Lorna, your message stopped here. Did you have more to share?--Jean]

LANI KAY MARTELL

Wow! Who would believe its that time again...I have had a busy year in sales, especially the first quarter, than a moderate spring, slow summer and slow fall. Just when I thought it would be OK to take a vacation, my business picked up again, so, I left it in good hands and went on a 16 days cruise to The Panama Canal. The ports I visited were exceptional, I went scuba diving in Aruba, sightseeing in the Cartagena, Columbia, all day through the Canal, then rode down the river in the Costa Rican rainforest. More sightseeing in Huatulco Mexico, and rode a shot jet boat at Acapulco, plus watched the cliff divers jump into the ocean. Then on to Cabo San Lucas for ocean kayaking. Final destination was San Diego to the famous zoo and then back home.

Yesterday, I returned from 3 days of scuba diving at Little Cayman Island. My opinion regarding flying, since Sept 11, is that you will need a vacation to help rid the stress of getting through all the security checks and waiting lines at the airports, especially for foreign flights. So far, I have flown on US Air, American and Continental. and in my experiences, Continental was the most consumer friendly.

Well, enough about my adventures.....

My son, Mark and his wife Serenity are doing well in Macon, GA. They purchased a cute home and have had fun decorating it for Christmas. Katie is now 8 years old and making straight A's. Zach is 4 years old and in preschool. Serenity took a position with Merrill Lynch and just passed her brokers exam and Mark loves the challenges at New York Life Ins. as the office manager.

My mother, Mildred, will be 82 in January an is now living at an assisted care home in Nashville. She just loves it as the meals are excellent and the facility is brand new. It's called Mary Queen of Angels. They really like her as she is quite the cut up and says exactly what she thinks. I am so thankful to have found such a nice place for her to get the best of care.

I hope you have a wonderful holiday season with family and friends and may the year 2002 be prosperous for you and your body and mind strong and healthy. As always, my home is open to you if you visit the Nashville area!

Love and Best Wishes,
Lany Kay and Mildred Martell

JEAN AND PAUL BARNHART

Not a lot of new stuff going on at the Barnhart house. And in this case no news is good news. Paul is working his usual six days a week at what he loves--architecture. He just celebrated the 16th anniversary of his business. His latest and biggest job is designing the new public housing to replace the old public housing located in San Francisco at Bay and Mason (I think?) where the cable car runs just up from the Embarcadero. It's a huge job and will take probably 3 or 4 years. He also has other projects going in Petaluma and San Francisco and on the Peninsula. In his spare time (right, what spare time!) he loves to putter in the garden and nap.

Jean is currently taking yet another acting class. This is ongoing because family life doesn't allow very often for the 3-month commitment it takes to do a play, so acting class affords me the chance to continue acting on a very small scale. Every eight weeks or so I perform a 20-minute scene in front of a few friends and family at the theatre. Right now I'm working on two scenes from "Agnes of God" in which I play the psychiatrist (the Jane Fonda role). One scene is with the Mother Superior of the convent and one is with Agnes, the young nun suspected of killing her newborn baby--pretty intense. I love the process of developing my character and working with others to develop the scene.

Last November I finished my second stint with the Orinda Women's Club as Chairperson of our "Festival of Trees." This is a luncheon, raffle, fashion show for 625 people which raises money for three major beneficiaries each year, each of whom receive about $12,000. We also give about the same amount to our club's Community Services Committee which distributes lesser amounts of $500-$1000 for a variety of scholarships and organizations with smaller budget needs. It's a great way to give back to the community and have social fellowship with a wonderful group of women. This year I will be chairing the committee which takes care of designing and printing the invitations and programs.

Paul and I are looking forward to a family vacation in Pinecrest in July and a trip with another couple to German, Austria, Switzerland and the city of Prague in Czechoslovakia (sp?) most of September. We're taking a Rick Steve's (Europe Through the Back Door) tour and can hardly wait. Have any of you taken one of his tours? We'd love your feedback.

Our daughter Brooke, 22, is living in Oakland with her boyfriend Mike. Brooke graduated from UC Davis last June and is working as an admin assistant to two vice presidents of Bridge Housing Corporation in San Francisco, a non-profit housing developer. They are one of Paul's oldest clients. She is discovering that she really misses school (of course) and is looking to go back to grad school when she can figure out specifically what she wants to do. She loves art, nature and traveling.

Our son Ben, 25, is in his 5th year at UC Santa Barbara with one more year to go. He lives with his girlfriend Tania who will be finished this month. Ben's loves are surfing, art, and nature.

I recently got together with Sharon (Day) Rathbun and Mark Stephens. Sharon and Mark hadn't seen each other since high school (I have always kept in touch with Sha and last year got back in touch with Mark). It was a hoot! Mark has a remarkable memory for details of childhood and a remarkable wit to match. It is such a great feeling to rekindle good friendships! I hope you all have the opportunity to do the same.

I also recently went to Konocti Harbor Resort at Clearlake with my sister and saw Tom Jones--brought back lots of memories.

PLEASE START WRITING AGAIN. I LOOK FORWARD TO DOING ANOTHER NEWSLETTER.
